AI templates and SOPs

A filled example sells. An empty grid is homework.

Who this is for

You already run a repeatable process: intake, content calendar, invoice, weekly review.

First sale

A $19 template that saves someone an afternoon.

Time to first

3–10 days

Cash window

$12–$29, or $47 for a bundle of three

Tools

Notion, Google Sheets, Canva, the prompts that generate the filled version.

Leave this alone

Empty aesthetic planners. Fifty messy files.

What you are selling

The file is the product. The prompt that fills it is the leverage. Together they let a buyer go from zero to a working system in ten minutes. That is the promise. If it takes an hour of setup, you built software, not a template.

Show a filled example. A blank Notion dashboard photographs well and converts poorly. People buy the picture of work already done.

The first 72 hours

Clean the template you already use. Duplicate it. Strip personal data. Write the prompt that regenerates a filled sample from a few inputs.

Export, screenshot the filled version, price $19. A bundle of three related files at $29 outsells one lonely file at $12 if they clearly belong together.

The path, step by step

Step 1. Name the Tuesday problem: 'I never know what to post,' 'I lose intake notes,' 'I forget to invoice.'

Step 2. Build only the columns or pages that solve that. Delete the rest.

Step 3. Include the AI prompt as a block at the top: inputs in, filled table out.

Step 4. One-page how-to. Screenshots. No video required for v1.

Step 5. Sell on your site. Etsy if the search terms are obvious.

Copy

Title: 'Filled [job] template + the prompt that rebuilds it in ten minutes.'

Post a screenshot of the filled example, not the empty grid.

Week-by-week

Day 1–2: clean the file you already use. Day 3: listing. Week 2: a three-file bundle. Do not design forty tabs.

Mistakes

Competing only on aesthetic. Shipping 40 tabs. Forgetting mobile. No example. Calling it an 'OS' when it is a checklist.

Close the book. Do the first 72 hours. Do not tour the rest tonight.
