Automation setups

A named setup that still runs a week later. Not 'I'll automate your company.'

Who this is for

You can connect a model to email, a sheet, or a form without setting their building on fire.

First sale

One paid setup that still runs a week later.

Time to first

7–21 days

Cash window

$400–$2,500 named setups

Tools

Make, Zapier, n8n, or native Claude/ChatGPT connectors.

Leave this alone

Open-ended retainers with no named job.

Name the machine

Sell a named setup: lead form to draft reply, weekly report to Slack, invoice reminder that waits for your approval. Scope the tools in writing. Hand off a one-page runbook. Support window of 14 days, then a new package.

If it can send mail without a human check, put a check in anyway until they ask to remove it. You are selling trust.

The first 72 hours

Pick one setup you can demo on your own accounts. Record it. Price it. Offer it to two people with messy inboxes.

The path, step by step

Step 1. Diagram on one page before you build.

Step 2. Test with fake data.

Step 3. Access: least privilege.

Step 4. Runbook: how to pause, how to know it broke.

Step 5. 14-day support. Then it is theirs.

Mistakes

God-mode logins. No off switch. Automating a process that has never been done manually. Leaving secrets in a shared doc.

Copy and week-by-week

'Named setup: form to draft reply with your approval. Runbook included. 14-day support.'

Week 1: demo on your accounts. Week 2: first paid setup. Do not skip the off switch.

Close the book. Do the first 72 hours. Do not tour the rest tonight.
